BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (WIAT) - We've all been there, that moment in the middle of the day when our kids become a part of us and we become their best friend. You know what I mean. That was the case for Marcia and Leigh Blakesley. They grew up in Oak Grove, a small town of about 1,100 people about 35 miles west of downtown Birmingham. For over 20 years, they called Oak Grove home. That's where they met, married and have raised a family together. Marcia and Leigh Blakesley, originally from Oak Grove, are now at the center of a small media whirlwind with the proposed removal of Oak Grove Middle School to be a part of the new Linn Park Boulevard Elementary School. Marcia and Leigh don't mince words when
