What is it about this game? (This game was reviewed from Nintendo eShop on the Nintendo Switch.) Why I like it? (in order of importance) It is a game that allows you to get rid of the burden of leveling up your character. (I thought it would help me to get used to the controls, and it does a lot, so I liked it.) The story is quite good. (Although the story is not complicated or hard to understand, it was a story in which I saw images in my head, and I liked that.) It is a game that allows you to cut down your fatigue by playing only what you want, which makes it even more fun. (I like the concept of collecting items in order to increase the power of your weapons and magic, and I like the gameplay. Because of this, I would want to play again in order to obtain items to increase the power.) It is a game that reminds me of the old games. (the gameplay is reminiscent of the days of old RPG's. Because of this, I want to continue playing in order to obtain items in order to increase the power of the weapons and magic.) It is a game that you can play online with others. (As a free app, I think it would be fun to play it on online with others in order to make the strength of my weapon increase, and I think it would be fun to do it.)

Well the function setup() is called on every frame. But for a reason I dont know the for loop is not working, it just keeps printing the same things over and over again. I tried to debug it, and the loop is not going through the function.
